THE GO

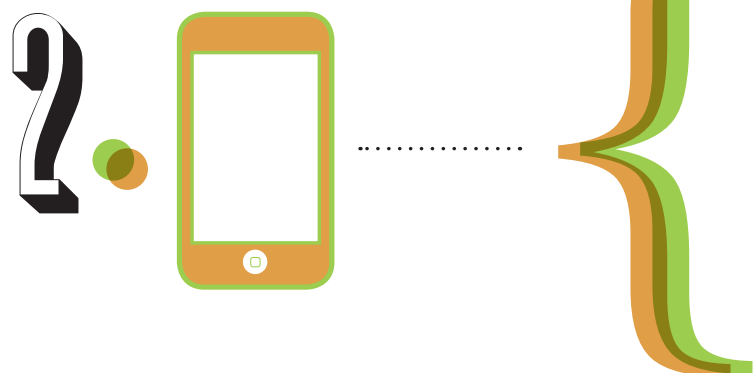

Three no-excuse options for recycling while out and about.

Hold on to it:

Just (literally) hold on to it. If you're willing to carry the bottle around with the drink still inside, what's the harm in holding it empty?

Find a bin nearby:

In the age of smart phones, there are several ways to look up where to recycle your plastic bottle. Earth911's iPhone recycling application allows users to look up recycling areas from their current location.

Talk to property manager:

If it bothers you enough that your favorite restaurant or gym doesn't have a recycling program, do something about it. Visit recyclemorenc.org to print out a flier to give to your favorite local businesses that don't recycle.
